

OSBORNE & LITTLE

NEW COLLECTIONS – SPRING 2019

OSBORNE & LITTLE's bold and colourful Spring 2019 collections feature patterned embroideries of Moroccan inspiration, richly coloured velvets, and decorative wallpapers with a modern botanical theme including dramatic large-scale prints

ARIADNE
VELVETS

SYMPHONY OF SILVER

ARIADNEVELVETS – leading characters from the world of opera lend their names to this collection of opulent velvets. Silver is a key colourway alongside teal, royal blue and emerald.

GREEN WALL

MOROCCAN SPICE

TAZA – a collection of elaborate embroideries, featuring spectacular roundels, colourful patterned diamonds and an artisanal stripe. Colour combinations evoke Berber traditional weaving including charcoal with silver and mint, ginger with aqua, stone with peacock and mandarin.

TAZA

A NEW LEAF

FOLIUM – is the Latin word for leaf. The FOLIUM wallpaper collection features leaves in many forms; a magnificent green foliage wall, metallic leaves printed to resemble, gold, copper or silver foil, sycamore leaf skeletons, and a striped tiger leaf. The horticulture theme continues with orchids, magnolia flowers and a garden of hummingbirds.

Tactile woven fabrics are offered in a more restrained palette, as well as elegant small-scale patterned silks and wide-width herringbone curtaining fabric.

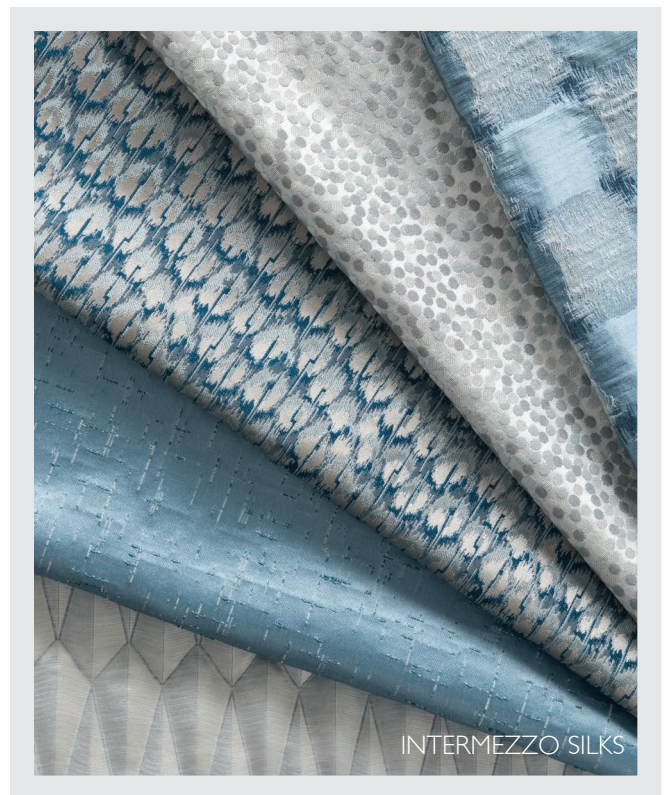

STREET STYLE

ALBERMARLE - the streets, arcades and squares of London's fashionable Mayfair lend their names to this collection of tailored woven fabrics.

TRANQUIL TONES

INTERMEZZO SILKS - musical terms lend their names to this collection of silks combined with a variety of other fabric fibres in an elegant palette of soft pastel shades and neutrals.

CHROMA – Thirty plain matt wallcoverings with a subtle fibrous texture, have been carefully selected to co-ordinate with the patterned designs.
